4. Financial Report

a. Presentation of 2020/2021 Audited Financial Statement

Terry Mounce, Treasurer, presented the Audited Financial Statement for the period ending June 30th, 2021, noting that the audit was completed by auditors, Levy Casey Carter MacLean, who were appointed as the Corporation's auditors at the last Annual General Meeting. Terry advised that the auditors had reported their opinion that the Corporation's financial records fairly represented.

| Revenue:                                       | $1,080,856  |
|------------------------------------------------|--------------|
| Expenses:                                      | $756,447    |
| Excess of Revenue over Expenditures            | $324,409    |
| Contribution to Reserve and Contingency Funds. | $309,997.00 |

Highlights of the Reserve fund expenditures for the period July 1, 2020 to June 30th, 2021 included the following:

- Windows and Patio Doors
- Parkade Entrance Repairs
- Rear Driveway and Parking Area
- Storm Drain Maintenance Total expenditures funded through the Reserve fund: $364,476.00

Terry noted that though return on investments are down, overall the Corporation is in good financial shape.

Terry commented on a few of the expenditures that varied from budget this year:

- Landscaping was over budget due to extra funds spent on the grounds this year based on garden committee recommendations
- Heat, Lights & Power which is the Corporations second largest expense was down $10,000 due to efficiencies
- Repairs and Maintenance was over due to parkade entrance repairs and rear parking lot associated repairs
- Repairs HVAC was due to the heat pump in the Blue Room requiring replacement

There being no questions, a motion to accept the Audited Financial Statements for the period ending June 30, 2021 as presented was made by Terry and seconded by unit 1106. All were in favour. MOTION CARRIED.

6. Other Business

a. Approval of Revised Common Element Rules circulated with Notice

Dan noted that the Condominium Act permits condominiums to make rules on different matters in different ways; rules respecting the use of units by the unit owners can be made in the Declaration and, in certain cases, in the By-Laws, with very strict requirements for approval – he noted that owners remember the process we went through to amend the declaration for the no-smoking amendment.

Dan explained that here is a much simpler process for rules governing the use of the common elements, and those Rules can be adopted by the Board, with notice to the owners. If no owner objects, the rules go into effect, subject to ratification at the next meeting of owners and they can be approved by a majority of those owners at the meeting.

Dan advised that the Board has been for a long time considering amendments to the building's Rules and last year finally prepared a revision of the rules. They were reorganized to make them easier to read and make it easier to find things as the current rules are jumbled. Dan stated that they also removed some provisions that were not properly in Rules respecting the Common Elements but the units themselves, and that they put in some new terms to deal with some things that they thought were understood but were not written down.

Dan noted that the new Rules were distributed last winter before the AGM, and the Board intended to present them for adoption at that meeting. However the Board realized that they had not complied with the requirements for adoption and notice, and so said that they would be considered to have been distributed for comment and that they would be brought back later.

Dan advised that the Board received comments from one owner and responded to him. The Board formally adopted the revised regulations and notice was sent to all owners on October 29 – this time with the formal notice under the Act. He noted that they received an objection from an owner, so the rules have not gone into effect, and they therefore now have brought them to the meeting now for approval.

Dan said that one other member contacted us with a question but did not object to the Rules going into effect, but rather about the proposed rule about limiting building access fobs to residents. He recalled that the owner asked whether the Corporation should not permit fobs to be given to trusted friends or family members to inspect units when they are away – a reasonable idea, but upon investigation we learned that this is a more complicated problem and we therefore propose to withdraw Draft Rule 11 to permit the Board to prepare a policy on fobs.

Dan concluded that the Board therefore put the draft rules before the meeting of owners for approval. Under the Act, the Rules can be approved by a majority of the owners present or represented at the meeting.

Unit 203 noted that he was the one owner with an objection that Dan was speaking of. He commented that he never did receive the email notification with the new rules, just the website notification. Dan responded that everyone he spoke to received it, and Real Estate360's records indicate that it was indeed delivered to both of unit 203's email addresses.

Unit 203 commented that regardless of notification he feels that the vote to accept for reject these new changes should be deferred until the owners have more time to review and come to a decision. He passed out a red lined document which compares the old rules with the newly revised rules which the Board is proposing. He noted that owners should be aware that ever single rule has been added, deleted or altered in some way. He advised that he holds proxies for two units tonight, one of them being unit 2003, who could not be there tonight and asked him to read a letter which they wrote.

Unit 203 read aloud the letter from unit 2003 which asked the Board to defer the vote to accept or reject the new Common Element Rules until owners can have more time to review the revisions. He commented that the rules have served the community well for 24 years and should stand unless the Board can produce a sufficient explanation as to why they should be changed for owners' consideration.

The President invited Liz Parr-Johnston, Vice President, to assume the chair.

There was some discussion back and forth regarding due process for Common Element Rule Changes and whether the current motion to defer was appropriate. Several unit owners commented that it is hard for them to vote without knowing what the exact changes were and requested that a comparison document be drafted and sent to owners similar to what unit 203 brought forward, and detailed explanations from the Board regarding each change. Several owners noted that communication throughout this process seems to be the issue.

Unit 402, Pat Cassidy, who specializes in condominium law, note that the procedural rules are clear, and the current motion on the floor by unit 203 is inappropriate as the correct process is that the ownership vote to either accept or reject the new revised common element rules, not defer. He noted if rejected, the ownership can request that a committee be struck to revise the bylaws.

After some further discussion, Elizabeth Parr-Johnston, Vice President, noted that the Board spent a lot of time on these revisions and it was their hope that the ownership could vote on them tonight. That being said, they have heard from several owners tonight and understand that they required further details regarding the changes before they can vote on the matter. She noted that the Board will reconvene on the issue and come back by March with a comparison document and explanations for the changes, and if necessary, create a committee and have a Special meeting of the Owners.

The President resumed the chair.

b. Report on Status of Building Project, including Window Replacement

Dan advised that the windows are coming to the end of their life, and so the Board engaged an architect a few years ago regarding replacement of all of the windows. The Board considered the cost for replacement of all windows to be excessive, and asked for other solutions. The senior architect recommended replacement of just the slider windows as they would provide the best improvement to the building. He noted that when Covid hit contractors had little interest in the project, and only one supplier submitted a proposal for crank-style windows. Samples were installed in the common room and the owners were invited to send their opinions of the window design to the Board. Dan noted that they have received many comments that the cranks are large and intrusive, the windows don't open very far, and the frames are larger than many would like to see. For these reasons, Dan noted that the Board has asked the supplier to come back with more sample options, and the Board would advise owners when one is installed and invite comments again before a decision is made. Dan noted that The Berkley just had very attractive vinyl windows installed, and though Summer Gardens uses metal-framed windows, he would like to investigate to see if those may be an option.

There was some discussion regarding the slider windows, with several owners commenting that they like the current windows, and all agreeing that the sample window would not work. It was noted that some owners don't have the same draft issues as others depending on where they are located within the building.

Unit 1501 asked if there are remotes available for the garage door. Dan stated that there are, but you must get them from the commissionaires; he understands that there is a finite number of those FOBS.

A Unit Owner commented that she was told there were no more available but then more were later produced, so perhaps they can get more.

No other business was brought forward.

7. Adjournment

With no further questions the meeting was adjourned at 8:35 pm.

Respectfully Submitted,

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF HALIFAX COUNTY CONDOMINIUM CORPORATION NO. 130:

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Halifax County Condominium Corporation No. 130 (the "Corporation"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at June 30, 2022, and the statement of general fund revenue, expenditures and fund balance, reserve fund revenue, expenditures and fund balance and contingency fund revenue, expenditures and fund balance and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Corporation as at June 30, 2022, and the results of its operations and its eash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Corporation in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audits of the financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Corporation or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Corporation's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements (Continued)

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Corporation's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Corporation's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Corporation to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

(h) Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates, as additional information becomes available in the future.

(i) Financial instruments

The Corporation initially measures its financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value. The Corporation subsequently measures all of its financial assets and financial liabilities at amortized cost except for equity instruments that are quoted in an active market, which are measured at fair value. Changes in fair value are recognized in fund revenue and expenditures in the period of change. Transaction costs are amortized on the straight line basis over the term of the instrument.

3. Internally restricted funds

Reserve Fund

The Corporation, as required by the Condominium Act, 1989, has established a reserve fund for financing future major repairs and replacements of the common elements and assets of the Corporation.

The directors have used a comprehensive reserve fund study by BRK Engineering Inc. dated February 2021 and such other information as was available to them in evaluating the adequacy of annual contributions to the reserve fund for major repairs and replacements. The study recommended a reserve fund balance of $902,255 on June 30, 2022. The balance at June 30, 2022 in the reserve fund is $1,309,092, which is $406,837 more than the recommended balance.

Recommended annual contributions over the next five years per the study are as follows:

| 2023 | $ | 320,000 |
|------|----|---------|
| 2024 | $ | 320,000 |
| 2025 | $ | 320,000 |
| 2026 | $ | 320,000 |
| 2027 | S  | 320,000 |

Any evaluation of the adequacy of the reserve fund is based upon assumptions as to the future interest and inflation rates and estimates of the life expectancy of the common elements and assets and their replacement costs. These factors are subject to change over time and the changes may be material; accordingly, the Condominium Act requires the reserve fund study be reviewed by a qualified engineer after five years and a comprehensive study is to be completed after the study has been in place for ten years.

Contingency fund

Each year the Board may approve transfers between the General Fund and Contingency Fund which may be done as part of the budgeting process or a stand alone motion. The funds held in the Contingency Fund are to be used and applied from time to time toward meeting the deficits of the other funds and such other common purposes as the Corporation may deem necessary, but not for amounts to be expended from the reserve fund.

The funds in the Contingency Fund are held in an interest bearing bank account with CIBC.

4. Financial instruments

The Corporation is exposed to various financial risks as it relates to financial instruments:

(a) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that another party will fail to honour a financial obligation and will, as a result, cause a financial loss for the Corporation. The Corporation is exposed to credit risk relating to its accounts receivable balance. This risk is mitigated by the collection process afforded to the Corporation under the Nova Scotia Condominium Act.

(b) Market risk

Market risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate as a result of market valuations. There is market risk associated with the Corporation's equity investments.

(c) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Corporation will be unable to fulfill its obligations on a timely basis. The Corporation mitigates this risk by preparing budgets and cash forecasts in order to ensure that it has sufficient cash to fulfill its obligations.

5. Budget information

The budget figures presented are for comparison purposes and are unaudited.

Background of Common Element Rules proposal:

The Board proposed the Common Element Rules as a revision of the existing Rules and Regulations Governing the Use of the Common Elements to improve the organization, add some useful provisions that had not been included in the original document, and remove some others that were obsolete.

In addition, we proposed to remove some provisions that dealt with activity in the units themselves because, in our view, those provisions are not appropriate in rules that are supposed to deal only with the common elements. Some owners objected to the removal of those provisions based on their view that those provisions are enforceable because of the way that the Rules and Regulations were initially adopted, so, in deference to that view, these provisions were reinserted in the draft Common Element Rules.

At the Town Hall meeting we had a good discussion of the rules generally, with most of the attention on matters that had not been proposed to change – the rules relating to pets, to construction work. There was not a clear consensus on either of these. In our view, these are not matters that are appropriately dealt with in common element rules; they affect activities in the units and should be set out in either the Declaration or the By-laws<sup>1</sup>.

We propose therefore that the revised Common Element Rules as presented at the Town Hall meeting be approved on the basis that the changes that they make are widely supported (like the rules about the parking garage and the Blue Room) and that they make no change to the subjects that were controversial.

We should then proceed to review the By-laws (and, if necessary, the Declaration) to transfer the appropriate rules about the use of the units there. These would include the rules with respect to pets in the units and with respect to noise. We will be proposing amendments to the By-laws to permit virtual meetings in any case and this may be dealt with in the same process.

We can consider whether any changes to the Declaration are required. We might, for instance, wish to revise the status of the parking spaces in connection with any proposed installation of charging infrastructure for electric vehicles.

&lt;sup>1</sup> The Declaration can include rules relating to the use of the units, while the By-laws can include provisions "governing the use of the units or any of them for the purpose of preventing unreasonable interference with the use and enjoyment of the common elements and other units." To the extent that these provisions deal with or prevent "unreasonable interference", they can be in the By-laws.
